The House committee tariff framers seem to know just what he wants, while the senators know very little as yet. The text of President Hoover's nessage to Congress yesterday is as

To the Congress of the United States:
I have called this special session of Congress to redeem two pledges given in the last election—farm relief and mited changes in the tariff. The difficulties of the agricultural industry arise out of a multitude of causes A heavy indebtedness was inherited by the industry from the deflation processes of 1920. Disorderly and wasteful methof 1920. Disorderly and wasteful methods of marketing have developed. The growing specialization in the industry has for years been increasing the proportion of products that now leave the farm and, in consequence, prices have been unduly depressed by others today, including those for four or five Federal judges for New York State.

Selections of Charles G. Dawes as Ambassador to Great Eritain and Joseph I. Dixon as First Assistant Interior Secretary were approved by the Senate without the formality of their nominactions being sent to a committee.

put tends to aggravate the situation Local taxes have doubled and in some cases trebled. Work animals have been steadily replaced by mechanical appliances, thereby decreasing the consumption of farm products. There are many other contributing causes.

The general result has been that our agricultural industry has not kept pace in prosperity or standards of living with in prosperity or standards of living with other lines of industry.

Problem One of Methods

There being no disagreement as to the need of farm relief, the problem be-fore us becomes one of method by which relief may be most successfully brought about. Because of the multi-tude of causes and because agriculture is not one industry but a score of in-dustries, we are confronted not with a representative, as a member of the Employes Compensation Board, and Charles J. Rhoads, Philadelphia banker, as Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Recess appointees whose nominations were received are Ernest Lee Jahncke, of Louisians, and David S. Ingalls, of Ohio, as Assistant Secretaries of the Navy; Patrick J. Hurley, of Oklahoma, as Assistant Secretary of War, and Charles McK. Saltzman, major general, U. S. A., retired, of Iows, as a member of the Federal Radio Commission.

dustries, we are confronted not with a single problem alone but agreat number of problems. Therefore there is no single plan or principle that can be generally applied. Some of the forces working to the detriment of agriculture can be greatly mitigated by improving our waterway transportation; some of them by readjustment of the tariff; some by better understanding and adjustment of production needs, and some by improvement in the methods of marketing.

An effective tariff upon agricultural products that will compensate the farmer's higher costs and higher standards of living has a dual purpose. Such a tariff not only protects the farmer in our domestic market but it also stimulates him to diversify his crops and to grow products that he could not otherwise produce, and thus lessens his dewise produce, and thus lessens his de-pendence upon exports to foreign mar-kets. The great expansion of produc-tion abroad under the conditions I tion abroad under the conditions I have mentioned renders foreign competition in our export markets increasingly serious. It seems but natural, therefore, that the American farmer, having been greatly handicapped in his foreign market by such competition from the younger expanding countries, should ask that foreign access to our domestic market should be regulated by taking into account the access to our domestic market should be regulated by taking into account the differences in our costs of production. The Government has a special man-date from the recent election not only

I have long held that the multiplicity of causes of agricultural depression could only be met by the creation of a great instrumentality clothed with sufficient authority and resources to essist our farmers to meet these problems, each upon its own merits. The creation of such an agency would at once transfer the agricultural question from the field of politics into the realm of economics and would result in constructive action. The administration is pledged to create an instrumentality that will investigate the causes, find sound remedies, and have the authority and resources to apply those remedies. I have long held that the multiplicity

We must not undermine initiative. There should be no fee or tax imposed upon the farmer. fee or tax imposed upon the farmer. No governmental agency should engage in the buying and selling and price fixing of products, for such courses can lead only to bureaucracy and domination. Government funds should not be loaned or facilities duplicated where other services of credit and facilities are available at reasonable rates. No activities should be set in motion that will result in increasing the surplus production, as such will defeat any plans of relief.

Merit in Market Organizations.

The most progressive movement in all agriculture has been the upbuilding of the farmers' own marketing organof the farmers' own marketing organizations, which now embrace nearly 2,000,000 farmers in membership and annually distribute nearly $2,500,000,000 worth of farm products. These organizations have acquired experience in virtually every branch of their industry, and furnish a substantial basis upon which to build further organization. Not all these marketing organizations are of the same type, but the test of them is whether or not they are farmer owned or farmer controlled. In order to strengthen and not to undermine them, all proposals for governmental assistance should originate with such organizations and be the result of their application. Moreover by such bases of organization the Government will be removed from engaging in the business of agriculture can not be cured by legislation; they can not all be cured by the Federal Government alone. be cured by legislation; they can not be bured by the Federal Government alone.

Highlights of Hoover Message Show Farm Bill Is Paramount

The Government has a special mandate from the recent election not only to further develop our waterways and revise the agricultural tariff, but also to extend systematic relief in other directions.

The creation of a farm board with broad powers to set up stabilization corporations and assist them financially and work out ways and means of eliminating waste and reducing marketing costs will take the farm problem out of politics and place it within the "realm of economics."

Administrative changes should be made in the tariff act in order that it may be more effectively applied. Tariff revision proper should be limited. The tariff is not intended as a discrimination against any country. Care should be taken in not offending any other country in the new bill.

Development of inland waterways are an integral part of the farm relief program.

. The national origins immigration act should be repealed

Legislation should be enacted providing for the 1930 census and for equalities. Every effort of this char- action by the commission, which at acter is an experiment, and we shall the same time will give complete security to industry for the future. Further advance. We must make a start. With the creation of a great instrumentality of this character, of a strength and importance equal to that of those which we have created for transportation and banking, we give immediate assurance of the determined Furthermore, considerable weakness purpose of the Government to meet the difficulties of which we are now aware, and to create an agency through which constructive action for the fuwhich constructive action for the future will be assured.

In this treatment of this problem we recognize the responsibility of the people as a whole, and we shall lay the foundations for a new day in agriculture, from which we shall preserve to the Nation the great values of its individuality and strengthen our whole national fabric.

Tariff Readjustment Needed

In considering the tariff for other industries than agriculture, we find that there have been economic shifts necessitating a readjustment of some of the taric schedules. Seven years of experience under the tariff bill enacted in 1922 have demonstrated the wisdom of Congress in the enactment of that or Congress in the enactment of that measure. On the whole, it has worked well. In the main our wages have been maintained at high levels, our exports and imports have steadily increased, with some exceptions our manufactur-ing industries have been prosperous. Nevertheless, economic changes have taken place during that time, which have placed certain domestic products at a disadvantage and new industries at a disadvantage and new industries have come into being, all of which creates the necessity for some limited changes in the schedules and in the administrative clause of the laws as written in 1922. It would seem to me that the test of necessity for revision is in the main whether there has been a substantial agricultural tariff but also to slackening of activity in an industry d systematic relief in other diduring the past few years, and a consequent decrease of employment due to quent decrease of employment due to insurmountable competition in the products of that industry. It is not as if we were setting up a new basis of protective duties. We did that seven years ago. What we need to remedy now is whatever substantial loss of employment may have resulted from shifts since that time. No discrimination against any foreign industry is involved in equalizing the difference in costs of production at home and abroad and thus taking from foreign producers the rdvantages they derive from paying lower wages to labor. Indeed, such equalization is not only a measure of social justice at home, but by the lift it gives to our standard of living we increase the demand for those goods from abroad that we do not ourselves produce. In a large sense we have learned that the cheapening of the permanent prosperity because the consuming power of the people.

Must Consult Export Business.

In determining changes in our tariff we must not fail to take into account the broad interests of the country as a whole, and such interests include our trade relations with other countries. It is obviously unwise protection which sacrifices a greater amount of employment in exports to gain a less amount of employment from imports.

I am impressed with the fact that we also need important revision in some of the administrative phases of the tariff. The tariff commission should be reorganized and placed upon a basis of higher salaries in order that we may at all times command men of the broadest attainments. Seven years of experience have proved the principle of flexible tariff to be practical, and in the long view a most important principle to maintain. However, the basic upon which the long view are seven to be examiner in chief of the United States Patent Office. Chairman McNew Chairman Mc ciple to maintain. However, the basis upon which the tariff commission makes its recommendations to the President for administrative changes in the rates of duty should be made more automatic and more comprehensive, to the end that the time required for determinations by the tariff commission shall be greatly shortened.

The formula upon which the commission must now act often requires that years be consumed in reaching conclusions where it should require only months. Its very purpose is defeated by delays. I believe a formula can be found that will insure rapid and accurate determination of needed changes in rates, with such strengthening of the Tariff Commission and of its basis for action many secondary changes in tariff can well be left to ury a sounder basis for valuation in these and other cases.

It is my understanding that it is the purpose of the leaders of Congress to confine the deliberations of the session mainly to the questions of farm relief and tariff. In this policy I concur. There are, however, certain matters of emergency legislation that were partially completed in the last session, such as the decennial census, the reapporticement of congressional representations. auch as the decennial census, the reapportionment of congressional representation, and the suspension of the national origins clause of the immigration act of 1924, together with some minor administrative authorizations. I understand that these measures can be reundertaken without unduly extending the session. I recommend their ing the session. I recommend their consummation as being in the public

This has become also a great source of friction abroad. There is increasing shipment of goods on consignment, particularly by foreign shippers to concerns that they control in the United States, and this practice makes valuations difficult to determine. I believe it is desirable to furnish to the Treasury a sounder basis for valuation in these and other cases.

The delegates felt the same way about it, for they voted cheerfully not to hear the attorney.

Mrs. Robert J. Johnston, of Iowa, then offered a motion that the Thirty-eighth Continental Congress confirm the verdict of the national board of management, and in a minute or two it was all over. ### THE GREAT EXPERIMENT.

An experiment of vast dimensions is outlined in President Hoover's message to Congress. His conception of the powers and duties of the proposed Federal Farm Board is so bold that it may take away the breath of old-time believers in the theory that the best government is that which governs least. Mr. Hoover's farm board would possess powers far transcending those of the Interstate Commerce Commission or any other agency set up to regulate industry. It would have at its command hundreds of millions of dollars, to be expended at its discretion within somewhat vague limitations. It would have power to "create and sustain" farmer-owned corporations engaged in buying warehouses, lending money against stored commodities, purchasing entire crops and disposing of them in orderly fashion, and creating clearing houses for the better marketing of perishable products. The board would also have control over handlers of perishable products through a license system.

In addition to these positive powers, the board would investigate questions of overproduction so as to "furnish guidance" to the farmers, and would devise methods for eliminating unsuitable lands and for developing industrial by-products out of agricultural products. Finally, the board would be the driving force in developing cooperative marketing organizations.

Mr. Hoover frankly admits that "every effort of this character is an experiment," but he insists that "we must make a start." He thinks that "we shall find from our experience the way to further advance." He likens the farm board to the agencies that have been set up by the Government "for transportation and banking."

The farm relational framed by the House committee contains in a crude and unperfected form some of the ideas of Mr. Hoover. A bill under consideration by the Senate committee will also contain similar provisions, with perhaps a different method of applying the benefits of tariff protection to agriculture. Thus Congress gives indication that it intends to make the great experiment advocated by the President.

No other American industry is fostered, encouraged, protected and paternalized by the Government as it is now proposed to deal with agriculture. Whether for good or ill, a new departure is to be made, which in its essence is Government favoritism in behalf of a special section of the people. How long will it be before manufacturers will demand similar Government stimulation and protection against loss? The ready answer in refusing similar aid to other industries is, "The farmer feeds all, and if he goes broke we all go broke." Nevertheless, many old-fashioned citizens will gasp when they begin to comprehend the immense scope of the proposed Government aid to agriculture and the undeniable tendency toward socialism that is manifested in the proposed legislation. They will probably contend that agriculture could be rescued without entering into untried experiments in controlling production, licensing traders, financing crop surpluses and determining the lands that shall be eliminated from agriculture. In dealing with the tariff Mr. Hoover wisely emphasizes the fact that the present law has brought prosperity and is not in need of radical amendment. He would relieve domestic products that are now at a disadvantage by reason of competition that has sprung up since the tariff law was enacted. He recommends, also, administrative changes that will guard against undervaluations and afford the Treasury a better basis for valuation in assessing duties. This is a most difficult phase of tariff legislation, on account of the difference between foreign and American valuations. The just and proper basis for assessing duties is a valuation ascertained by comparing a foreign commodity with an exactly similar domestic article. The cost of producing the domestic article ought to represent the value of the foreign article for tariff purposes. With such a basis of valuation a small duty would insure the protection to which American producers are entitled. When foreign valuations are accepted, based upon semipauper labor costs, a seemingly high ad valorem duty is often no protection at all. The foreign article can pay the duty and yet undersell the American article. Perhaps it is too much to expect a change to American valuation. Assuming that foreign valuations are to stand, Congress should not hesitate to increase tariff rates where American commodities are subjected to ruinous foreign competition. The United States belongs to Americans, and they have a right to monopolize their own market-every one of them, in all branches of production, agriculture included. Concessions to foreigners at the expense of any set of American citizens are an injury to all America and should not be tolerated.

Now that the Democratic party is committed to the principle of protection to Americans, there is no excuse for playing politics in Congress in dealing with the tariff. Make protection unanimous and universal!

WHY WASHINGTON LAGS.

The five-year financial program worked out by Daniel J. Donovan, District Auditor, and made public "for consideration and criticism" by the Commissioners last Sunday leaves much to be desired. It would provide for the mere maintenance of the District without providing for expansion or progress. Several items now under consideration, notably the municipal center development project, are provided for, but other important items, such as the municipal airport and development of the approaches to Arlington Memorial Bridge, are not considered.

The five-year budget is based on the continuance of the existing $1.70 tax rate and the $9,000,000 lump sum contribution by the Federal Government. Total estimated revenues run from $44,000,000 for the year 1930 to $47,900,000 for the year 1934, making a total of $229,800,000 for the five-year period. Total proposed appropriations amount to $44,900.-000 for 1930, $48,500,000 for 1931, $44,600,-000 for 1932, $45,800,000 for 1933 and $44,600,000 for 1934, to a total of $230,600,-000 for the five-year period. The deficit amounting over the five-year period to approximately $800,000 would be taken care of from the surplus now on deposit to the credit of the District in the Federal Treasury.

The needs considered in the suggested fiveyear budget constitute less than the very minithey stand in the nature of a starvation diet. There must be built in the near future a municipal airport. The schools must be accorded more liberal financial treatment Numerous unforeseen needs will arise during the five-year period.

The proposed budget is predicated on the continuance of the $9.000,000 lump sum from the Federal Treasury. It is highly desirable, of course, that the present tax rate be maintained, but it is not to be expected that increased taxes resulting from a larger population will supply the funds that will be needed by the District. Hope for financial relief lies in Congress. The five-year budget plan says, in effect, to Congress: "Do not give the District any more money. It has adopted a program in which the present $9,000,000 contribution is all that is needed."

Even if a five-year budget scheme were in itself feasible, its adoption would be inadvisable if it definitely approved of any lump sum Federal contribution. Until Congress enlarges the Federal contribution to the cost of the District government it is futile to expect that revenues will be sufficient for the Capital's

The simple fact stands out where the whole country can see it. Washington, the National Capital, is starved by the national Government, whose policy in Congress is dictated for the time being by small-town, small-bore politicians. They try to curry favor with their constituents by making it appear that they are Treasury watchdogs, guarding the taxpayers' money against the thieves of Washington. It is a fraudulent post, a libel upon Washington and a betrayal of trust. Every American who desires the National Capital to become the world's finest city should be made cognizant of the true reason why this District is kept in a backward state. It is in the grip of petty despots in Congress who are abusing the powers that they are not competent to wield.

GAINS IN EMPLOYMENT.

The annual spring employment survey of the National Association of Manufacturers shows that employment throughout the United States is numerically 8.71 per cent higher than at the same time last year. The report is made up of reports from manufacturing concerns in 38 different States, representing 23 classifications of industry and can be accepted as a good index of employment conditions. The actual gain of employes in more than 1,000 concerns which replied to the questionnaire is 45,295.

Gains in employment are noted in 19 of the 23 classifications reporting. The largest increase-44 per cent-was made in automobile accessories, and the second largest in automobiles. Other leading industries on the list are machinery, electrical, iron and steel and furniture. Those showing declines are cement, clothing, leather and lumber. The industries included in the report are operating at 85.1 per cent of their fullest capacity, which is considered very favorable. It is indicated that the present rate of employment will continue throughout the summer. There has been no scaling down of wages, but advances in some localities.

Commenting on the report, John E. Edgerton, president of the organization, says: "When any considerable typical group of manufacturers in all parts of the country report that they are employing nearly 9 per cent more persons than the previous year, and when they are operating at a rate of 85.1 per cent of their full capacity, that is an excellent state of industrial and economic health for the nation.

HIGH COST OF HEALING.

Expulsion of Dr. Louis E. Schmidt, eminent specialist, from the Chicago Medical Society, has raised a storm of protest in that city. The case is attracting attention throughout the country because it goes to the heart of the problem of excessive fees for medical and hospital care. The outcome may have a vital influence on the present campaign in many cities to make the services of reliable physicians and hospitals available to citizens in moderate circumstances.

Apparently Dr. Schmidt has the sympathy of the public and of a considerable portion of the medical profession. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, former health commissioner, has offered his resignation to the medical society in protest. Other resignations are expected to follow. Dr. Scott, president of Northwestern University, where Dr. Schmidt is a member of the faculty, has issued a statement upholding the latter as one who for 30 years "has held that service was to go before profit."

Dr. Schmidt was charged with unethical practice based on his connection with the Public Health Institute, a clinic which gives treatment for social diseases and which advertises its activities. It is considered unethical by the Chicago society for a physician to be connected with an institution which advertises, even though its activities are charitable. It appears quite evident that the physicians feared the philanthropic work of Dr. Schmidt and his associates would tend to draw patients from themselves. Dr. Schmidt replied that the medical profession must take some action to bring down "the inexcusably high costs of medical care."

The situation has brought a statement from Dr. Scott to the effect that "present rates of medical care are so high that families of modest circumstances are forced to resort to quacks and patent medicines in their efforts to heal sickness." He thinks that establishment of clinics will have no appreciable effect on the incomes of capable physicians, and that the woes of incompetents in the profession should not retard medical progress. An endowment of several million dollars will be de voted to establishment of clinics and hospitals on the campus of Northwestern University, where the middle class will be served at cost.

If furnishing medical treatment to those unable to pay the present high prices is unethical, the code of the medical profession is in serious need of revision. It is commendable to find some public-spirited physicians awakening to this necessity.

Detectives say they know who killed Wesley Poutra. Don't tell us it's the same man who killed Arnold Rothstein!

DESIGN OF AIRPORTS

By FRANCIS KEALLY, In the New York Times.

"Build the birdhouse and the birds will come," is an old saying, but it is more true of human flight than it is of our feathered friends.

The character and attractiveness of America's airports have a direct relation to the people's interest in the growth of air traffic. public and private. Any municipality which overlooks today's great opportunity for providing for air traffic, not only for the future but for the present, will be found in the same position as those who refused to accept the railroad in its pioneer days.

Since Col. Lindbergh landed in the lap of the gods at Le Bourget Airdrome, about $300,-000,000 has been spent on American airports. The Department of Commerce further informs us that 1,324 communities already have such ports, while 1,000 more now are actively planning them, with a projected expenditure of possibly $200,000,000 in view.

It is not enough, however, to pick out a vacant plot, designate it as an airfield, and then design it in an old-fashioned, helter-skelter way. It is not enough to have a couple of city fathers and perhaps a flier on the ground to say that the hangars shall go here and a service station there, and then to lease a concession for a hot-dog stand, and put up a shack with a few rooms to rent.

The problem of the airport, whether it be urban, suburban, insular or coastal, are complex, requiring for solution the combined experience and knowledge of the aviation expert, the engineer, the city planner and the architect. The architect has barely entered the field of aviation, but he has already done some notable work in connection with the design of airports.

The costly experience of scrapping inadequate railroad terminals must be applied to the airports of today and tomorrow. Here is a golden opportunity to apply hindsight to foresight. The very fact of an airport's existence is enough to insure the attraction to it of business.

But the mere fact of existence does not necessarily imply that an airport can keep in step with progress and expansion. For proof we need go no further than Croydon. This airport on the outskirts of London, which is a veritable beehive of activity, was believed, a few years ago, to be the last word in construction; and yet the port's facilities have recently been scrapped because they became outmoded and inadequate. A $600,000 investment scrapped, and $1,000,000 in new money used, because the proper vision was not applied in the first place.

Competitions to stimulate interest and to concentrate technical brains on the airport were held last year in three foreign countries. The Stettin Airports Corporation, of Berlin, called for competitive airport designs from architects and engineers throughout the Reich. The designs produced were architectural compositions, which not only solved the practical requirements of the problem, but which were pleasing and as well conceived as the design for a great railway station.

We Erect Bronze Statues of Those Who Grind Our Axes. By ROBERT QUILLEN

T is more blessed to give than to receive because the receiver has no profit except the gift itself, while the giver is rewarded with praise,

The "great" of the earth are those who rake our chestnuts out of the fire-good-natured ones who turn the grindstone for us-free horses we can ride to death.

Our heroes are people who do our chores. We hurrah for them because they served us—not because they were brave. If they had of a 7-year-old child were order shown equal bravery in the service of our enemy, we would teach our enroll her in school within three days children to hate them.

Europe once loved these United States, but the love turned to indiference or cordial dislike when the last gifts were distributed.

The head of the house is adored and petted by the family while he Primary teachers in the local school functions as a good provider, but adoration changes to mild contempt have testified that this child and two or open resentment when he ceases to provide—and (except in case of younger ones in the family are farther illness) his possession of many admirable qualities will not maintain his standing in the household once he has lost the knack of making the city schools. Moreover, they are money

The young husband who gets much money and spends it freely to gratify his wife seems a marvel to her and to her people, but let him lose his money or begin to practice a too-rigid thrift and his wife will agree with her people when they intimate that she threw herself away. Affection and praise, in short, are payment for service rendered.

This does not mean you can buy either admiration or love if your purpose is clear, for those whose affection you covet will feel cheapened a little while by the authorities in this and degraded by yur cynical effort, and quite properly resentful. The very fact that you have designs on them will arouse their antagonism, and they will accept your gifts while calling you a "sucker" or frankly scorn your advances.

The giver must give without hope of reward and solely because his heart prompts him to give, but his reward of praise and love is a paygoing to like Senator Henry J. Allen, if ment for service and is not to be obtained in any other way.

You may think that a hard philosophy, but you must take human nature as you find it.

If you would have the world's respect, do its chores. He that would be greatest among you, let him be your servant. If you would be a hero or fill a page in history, attend those who have axes to grind.

Not many people are aware that Hoover is interested in a farm which is eventually become of the stage, and worth nearly $1,000,000. Its 1,260 acres are located in the fertile San Joaquin Valley of central California. In the heights of the season it employs 600 men. Mr. Hoover owns the majority stock in this cooperative experiment. It is conducted on the most approved scientific methods.

> Crop rotation as recommended by the Agriculture Department is carried out so that fruit and produce and cotton follow each other in order. Potatoes are planted between avenues of grapevines and even the space between rows of peach trees produces alfalfa. Proceeds from the latter crop, by the way, pay for the irrigation water needed to produce the peaches. Water melons and cotton grow side by side, and spinach is planted when onlons and potatoes are harvested. Thus, if one crop is a loss the others make up for %. In addition, there are 2,000

ICELAND.

Since 1918 this little nation has been acknowledged a sovereign state, united with Denmark only through the person of King Christian X. This has given new responsibility to the venerable Althing which, in spite of changes in form and functions from time to time, presents a historical continuity through ten centuries.

It is this fact, perhaps, more than any other, that impels Icelanders to work for complete independence from the mother country. The present treaty with Denmark remains in force until 1940, but as it is, relations between Iceland and Denmark are far more satisfactory than formerly when the country was governed from the Danish capital as a colony.

As for the Althing, Prof. Hermany son, of Cornell, says that its estab-lishment in 930 "is one of the most in-structive and interesting phenomena in the history of the Middle Ages, and advanced in school requirement leading a simple, healthy, normal life learning to obey, to observe, to attend and to work. In order that the period of education may be prolonged, the parents are removing their family at once to a distant State, hoping that their existence may be overlooked for land of the free.

Who owns the child? Danton, in a moment of folly in the French Revolution, cried out that the children belong to the state. The sentiment is revolting. Such a monopoly the state has no right to claim, the parents no right to yield. We have no right to tolerate that the state should unconditionally assume the rights and duties of teacher and arrogate to itself complete control in other words, a monopoly of education. When the state claims the exclusive right of forming the minds and hearts of the young it has no foundation on which to base its claim. The parents have a title to show for the rights they demand and exercise. This letter is not a complaint, a murmur, a lamentation, nor a groan. It is an agitation. Said the editor of the Country Gentleman to me: "Agitate! The idea of state socialism as regards schools has been completely sold to the people of America and conditions will have to get bad before people will conto get bad before people will consent to any changes.'

Sports Silks

-the importance of seeing these Spun Silks in our Sports Silk Showings 12 to 1, 4 to 5 Daily

In every city there are women, well-known for their smartness and individuality, who do not buy all their clothes ready-made. These women, who make their own clothes, or have them made by dressmakers, depend for their smartness and chic upon beautiful and unusual fabrics.

These sports silks shown during this Sports Silk Week are materials that the famous couturiers are using for the smartest sports costumes. The silks that smart women fashion, or have fashioned, into the inevitable sports frocks of Spring and Summer. In addition to beauty and durability, a large number have washability also in their favor.

Mannequins wear delightful sports frocks fashioned from these materials after patterns by Vogue, Butterick, and McCall. These patterns may be had in our Pattern Section.

Baton Rouge, La., April 16 (A.P.).—
Gov. Huey P. Long's crucial fight to avert trial on counts of impeachment voted since the special Legislature session ended April 6 resulted in a virtual compromize today in the Senate. The lower house continued taking of testimony on his "strip" gambling raids, employment of a purported bodyguard and alleged misuse of State funds.

Without passing on the legality of House charges voted April 6, or still to be taken up, the Senate decided to receive any further indictments brought and permit Gov. Long to file a demurrer on arraignment to any and ell charges. The decision came after adoption of fules for the trial.

The Senate adjourned until April 25, after notifying the House that indictment No. 2, charging the governor with bribery of two legislators to vote for his proposed tax on occupational oil, had been formally received.

By vote of 22 to 15, the trial body adopted the rule providing for sustaining or dismissing by a majority vote of the Senate exceptions of the defense. A two-thirds vote is necessary to convict on any count.

W. O. Hart, New Orleans attorney, testifying before the House on the charge that the governor had missp-propriated State funds, said his information was that there was a balance of $2,000 unaccounted for remaining from the $6,000 granted for the entertainment of the governors' conference here last fall.

lhe Arithmetic of PACKARD OWNERSHIP

TT IS just elementary arith-I metic that buying two cars each lasting only half as long as one costing twice as much, results in the same expenditure of money in the same length of time.

Elementary arithmetic, yes. And yet if every man and woman who really wants to drive a Packard Eight, who recognizes the beauty, the luxury and the undeniable distinction of Packard ownership, were to sit down and actually figure the thing out in terms of their own car costs—the Packard factory would have to be multiplied in capacity every year.

For there are hundreds of thousands of motorists who are not driving cheaper cars because they prefer them to Packards. They are driving cheaper cars because they believe they cannot afford Packard ownership. They think the cheaper cars are cheaper to own!

Perhaps you are one of those thousands. If you are, just follow through our reasoning. Tens of thousands of owners of cars costing down to ten or twelve hundred dollars have done so. And then become the proud owners of new Packard cars.

The Eight Costs—

There are eight items of cost in owning any car and first cost is not one of them. Compare each of these costs, item by item, as between your present car and a Packard Standard Eight. You will find:

That the license cost is little if any more, and only a few dollars in any case.

That insurance may be slightly more due to the greater value of the Packard. But this applies principally to fire and theft coverage - a very small sum annually.

That garage cost is the same.

That the three operating items -gas, oil and tires-show no advantage for either car. The Packard Standard Eight gives 10 to 12 miles or more to the gallon of gasoline; 1000 or more miles to the gallon of oil; 15,000 to 20,000 or more miles to the set of tires. What "half-price" car does better?

That Packard repairs cost less. This is due, first, to the simplicity of Packard design which makes repair work quick and easy; second, to Packard quality which requires less frequent repair, and, third, to Packard's automatic chassis and motor lubrication which protect factory precision.

That depreciation on a Packard costs no more and quite likely less than you are now paying. Those are the eight costs-and the only costs to consider - in owning a motor car.

Unless You Are Very Unusual

You may agree readily with all of the above statements except the last-the really important one, about depreciation. And yet, unless you are very unusual, the fact that Packard Eight depreciation will cost you no more than your present car costs you. is absolutely true. For you will keep a Packard Eight twice as

The Packard is a long-lived car. It is designed and built to give many years of first-class transportation. You are not tempted, either by lowered service from your Packard or by radical changes in new models, to turn your Packard Eight in after 20 months or so. You will keep it because you want to keep it. And in doing so you will enjoy the car you really want, the car everyone admires, at no greater expense than that to which you are now accustomed.

May we go further into your individual case using actual figures? We will be glad to do so without obligation. And a Packard Eight will be at your door at any hour you name. Just phone.

GERMANY TO SUBMIT DEBT FIGURES TODAY

Allies' Annuities Schedules Exceed Ability to Pay. Declares Schacht.

STEP IN BARGAINING SEEN

Paris April 16 (A.P.) -Dr. Hialmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation to the second Dawes committee, today told his colleagues on the committee that the schedule of reparations annuities demanded by the allied nations exceeded Germany's capacity to pay. He promised to present figures of his own tomorrow, which will be discussed in connection with a memorandum presented by the creditor nations n Saturday.

Dr. Schacht's stand was received in some quarters as merely representing the viewpoint of the German govern-ment, which was to be considered by the reparations experts together with the viewpoint of the allies, and in oth-ers as a rejection of the allied figures. The attitude of the German delegation was understood by some of the experts as indicating that the allied memorandum should be considered as only one step in the negotiations. By this view the figures that the German delegation will present tomorrow are in-tended to enable the committee to compare the two sets of figures before takanother step forward.

German Stand Is Seen.

In German circles outside of the Gerdelegation, Dr. Schacht's state-ts were regarded, however, as mean-more than that and tending to v the determination of the German erts to accept no arrangement un-experts to accept no arrangement un-less further reductions were made. The truth was considered tonight to lie between the two interpretations. There are good reasons for believing that the Germans desire, above all, to do nothing to prevent a settlement.

At the same time, it was held that they were bound, for their own prestige and or the interest of their country, to naneuver for the best terms possible. The chief of the German delegation old the experts this morning that Ger-nany's borrowings abroad since the bawes plan went into operation ex-seded her payments to the allies, that here was a considerable deficit in the alance of trade to her detriment, and hat altogether the annuities pro-osed by the allies went beyond Gernany's ability to pay without further

Will Present Own Figures.

The other experts asked Dr. Schacht f he were satisfied with the figures turnished in explanation of the allied lemands, and if he had any suggestions to make as to further discussion. We replied that he would present his win figures tomorrow afternoon.

Array of Counsel Fails To Awe Supreme Court

(Associated Press.)

Litigants before the Supreme Court were told by Chief Justice Taft yesterday that they did not aid their cases by having a large number of counsel. The announcement came in connection with the argument of a patent-infringement controversy in which three attorneys wished to be heard on one side and two on the other. "So many counsel do not help the court," the Chief Justice declared. "and if clients knew the truth they would not have so many counsel."

advance agreements, and favor beginning the battle for ratification with the least possible delay. They claim to be in a position to press this issue on their own initiative and compel friends and foes of the court to follow their leadership.

Words of counsel and caution may not deter these volunteer leaders from forcing the issue. They agree with Mr. Root that America should be a member of the World Court, but they do not agree with the methods which have so far been employed in advocat-ing American membership.

They want the issue faced frankly with full realization by the American people that the court is an agency of the League of Nations, that American membership in the court means ulti-mate American membership in the League and that the chief reason for ratifying the World Court protocol con-sists in paving the way for necessary though belated adoption by the United States of the principles of interna-tionalism, as laid down by the League of Nations at its inception

Democrats Fight Move. Democratic senators in particular will be found among those advocates of the court who are not willing to sponsor a half-hearted campaign based on belittling the league and persuading the people to believe that the United States Senate should ratify the World Court protocol and yet remain aloof from the League of Nations.

In other words, Democratic senators

In other words, Democratic senators are not overeager to permit the Republican program for American adherance to proceed smoothly in a manner which might bring credit to the Republican enemies of the league and further implied criticism of the Democrats who have sponsored the league from the beginning.

There is also a feeling among Democratic friends of the league that the Republicans are now endeavoring to do

Republicans are now endeavoring to do by indirection and extreme caution pre-cisely what they blamed the Democrats for having attempted to do openly and frankly when the league and the Versailles Treaty failed of ratification in the Senate.

Earth Shocks Felt in Italy. t is inferred that these figures are the form of annuities already drawn by the Gereman delegation and held reserve for the moment when it early this morning. There was no damage, but people rushed from their houses into the streets.

Long Wave "Fading" Is Very Rapid

Department of Commerce Analysis Reveals Variations Have to Be Recorded Continuously Day and Night.

Variations or "fading" of signal strength of long wave transoceanic radio stations are extremely rapid. analysis by the Department of Commerce reveals. Signals of such radio stations within 200 miles from Washington, which are being studied by the Bureau of Standards, are so variable that in order to follow them it is necessary to automatically record them continuously day and night. The Bureau of Standards explains that this variability in the signals is the result of changes in the conditions the result of changes in the conditions of the upper atmosphere when a part of the waves are believed to be reflected down to the receiving station, where they interfere with the waves coming along the ground.

By noting the differences of the records made with a loop and with an antenna it has been found possible to follow the rapid changes in the angle at which the reflected wave comes down from the upper air, sometimes even seeming to come from the back.

The method also permits the study of the effects of magnetic storms on night fading and shows that the severe storms generally produce marked changes, often lasting several days, in the usual fading pattern of certain stations.

Johnny Appleaeed, barefoot hero of the Ohio and Indiana backwoods, will live again for the school children of Ohio and other States listening to WLW when the weekly history dramalogue is broadcast next Monday at 2 colock from the Cincinnati station.

Johnny Appleaeed, or John Chapman as he was christened, was the pioneer tree planter of the early part of the nineteenth century whose labors bore fruit over 100,000 square miles of territory. With sublime faith he believed that God had appointed him to a mission in the wilderness to preach the gospel of love and to plant apple nurseries that should produce orchards for the ploneers.

The historical dramalogue written on events in the life of Johnny Appleaeed has been prepared by William A. Duff, founder of the Johnny Appleaeed Society in which 1,200 boys and girls are enrolled.

Every month the staff of a Chicago station receives from Mrs. Lillian Jacobson; a Chicago fan, a box which contains the following: One home-made cake; three boxes of cracker; one brick of cheese; one box of cough drops; several packages of chewing gum; one box of hard candy and one box of chocolate candy.

Radio listeners in this country are not to hear radio programs from England through the agency of transcensic rebroadcasting again until next fall, unless an event of special importance happens, according to Dr. A. N. Goldsmith, chairman of the board of consulting engineers of the National Broadcasting Co. The radio engineers are too busy designing new apparatus are too busy designing new apparatus for this coming service to be interrupted at their tasks, he said.

Or. Goldsmith said however that def-te progress had been made in the s year toward a systematic exchange last year toward a systematic exchange of foreign programs. The work has been entirely of an experimental nature, largely to lessen the influence of the two major opposing forces, static and fading, archenemies of transpoceanic radio, and this effect has been substantially reduced, he said.

The experiments, Dr. Goldsmith concluded, show promising results which are apparently leading toward the establishment of a systematic exchange of programs between the United States and foreign stations.

West's original lead of the Deuce showed that he had only four Spades: Dummy had two sure Spade stoppers; and consequently West would have to have two entries in order to cash his thirteenth Spade. It was not probable that West had these entries, but it was quite possible that he had one entry. Consequently East should have abandoned West's Spades in favor of his own Clubs; he should have led the Queen of Clubs to trick 2. Of course, he would expect Closed Hand to have the King, and with the Jack-9 in Dummy he would expect Closed Hand to cover with the King so as to make Dummy's Jack good. If the expected should happen and West should have an entry and continue the Clubs, gamewould be saved because East would make one Spade and three Clubs, sandwould take.

had three bigamous wives as well as four legal ones, a new episode sprang out of the strange past of Henry Colin Campbell today to furnish another mystery for police investigating the "torch murderer's" complex life.

Criminal records showed that Campbell, the confessed slayer of his matrimonial agency bride. Mrs. Mildred Mowry, had conducted a private insane asylum 26 years ago in Montclair, N. J., under the name of "Dr." Henry C. Close, and had live patients. Investigators said today they have been unable to learn what became of the patients, four men and a woman, when Campbell suddenly disappeared

RANCISCO

GATEWAY TO VACATIONLAND

Make this great city, by the Golden Gate, the headquarters for your California vacation. America's coolest summer city with no rain to mar a single day. Colorful, cosmopolitan, gay and interesting in itself, San Francisco is the central point from which your trips to all of California's playgrounds may be easily and comfortably made. Yosemite, Lake Tahoe, the High Sierra, the Redwoods, Lassen Volcanic National Park and a hundred other attractions are all nearby.

To the south of San Francisco are broad To the south of San Francisco are broad beaches, orange groves covering the valleys and foothils, old missions and the headquarters of the motion picture industry, while northward are the "Evergreen Playground," the Puget Sound Country, the valley of the giant Columbia River, Crater Lake and Mt. Shasta. Plan to see the entire Pacific Coast either by sidetrips from San Francisco or as you return home at the end of your finest summer.

Here, too, is a land of opportunity. Great indeveloped markets lie beyond the Pacific with San Francisco as the natural gateway. Thousands who have come to visit have re-turned to live. So let this vacation serve the Representatives. The eleventh charge, eliminated by the sustention of a de-nurrer, alleged that Justice Clark had concurred in an opinion without hav-ing read the record transcript of the testimony or briefs.

Brilliant white teeth often dulled by film

. Film, too, is the source of serious tooth and gum disorders. Dentists urge special film-removing dentifrice.

I rally discolored and dull. Then they made a simple test that brought a glorious surprise. Every 9 in 10 found teeth were "off color" merely because a film coat covered them. When it was removed, teeth grew white and sparkling. The special dentifrice called Pepsodent is compounded solely for that purpose.

Film—its dangers

Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel this film. It absorbs stains from food and smoking and turns white teeth dull. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It is the chief cause of the commoner tooth and gum disorders. Film hardens into tartar, germs by the millions breed

COR years thousands thought their teeth natu- in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Film must be removed each day. Ordinary brushing fails to do it successfully. So dentists urge the special film-removing dentifrice called Pepsodent.

First, Pepsodent curdles film, then removes it in gentle safety to enamel. No other way will make teeth as sparkling white. Write for free 10-day supply to The Pepsodent Co., 1104 So. Wabash Ave., Chicago. Or ask your druggist for full-size tube. Find out how white your teeth really are.

This dealer said —

"Thousands" are finding it the best gasoline to buy"

"If you're like the rest of them you want gas that gets you out of traffic jams before the line piles up, or the signal flashes 'stop.' You want a gas that's got pick-up, flexible power and speed. Here it is. The improved 'Standard.'

"But don't let me influence you. You be the judge. Try to match it for clean, clear whiteness—for pick up—or in any way. This gasoline is backed by the Standard Uil . Co. of New Jersey."

"It's the Champion"

'STANDARD' Improved GASOLINE

If you are one of the few motorists who is yet to enjoy the satisfaction of "Standard" Dealer service, drive up to one of the big red pumps today. You will find the service includes those little extras that make driving a pleasure.

Stock Trading Slows Up Further-Call Funds Remain at 8 Per Cent.

COPPERS MOVE UPWARD

New York, April 16 (A.P.) .- The continued cheerful tone of business and industrial news brought a little buying into the stock market late in today's uldation which began yesterday.

still further, the day's sales falling off to 2,369,480 shares, which is about the size of a Saturday turnover a month Call money again renewed at 8 vithdrew some $15,000,000 to meet the midmonth interest, dividend and tax

The credit outlook, however, was regarded as more cheerful. Bankers' accial credit requirements appeared to be passing. The Federal Reserve statenent of the condition of member banks in 101 leading cities, showing a drop lateral, was pleasing, as this item has failed to follow the brokers' loan total lower levels in recent weeks.

President Hoover's message to Conress contained no surprises for Wall That he made no reference to e credit situation was regarded as in-its said nothing about railway consolilations.

United States Steel's announcement of the offer of rights worth about $5.59

Price of Copper Reduced.

Custom smelters dropped the price of opper metal to 18 cents a pound, but ittle moved at that price, and it was spected in trade circles that the price ill be stabilized somewhat higher than hat, as stocks at the end of March mounted to only about ten days' suply. That crude oil production fell off the widest margin reported this year, was restred as particularly favorable at a me of firming gasoline prices.

The copper shares appeared to have to bottom today, and turned upward naconda, after selling off 2½ points, osed steady, while Greene Cananes, ennecott and Chile closed a point or on higher. Granby, however, sold off much as 8 points, despite a highly worable 1928 earnings report, and Calmet and Arizona was heavy.

American Can sold up 6 points to a cord price, at 1364, and Continental in advanced 2 on reports of substanul increase in earnings. Chrysler, ter touching a new low for 1929 at well and the moderate headway, Simms and all pracking into new high ground the second successive day.

Reflecting the Universe

Work was recently begun on a new telescope which will enable astronomers to see billions of stars never known to man before. The most important part of this telescope will be a 200-inch reflector weighing thirty

This mirror will be made of fused quartz instead of glass, because even the infinitesimal expansion or contraction caused by a change in the temperature of the room would cause a glass mirror to distort the telescope's reflection of the universe.

There are many securities which show the same sensitiveness to every change in the business world, moving up or down from causes totally foreign to their intrinsic worth. But those investors who purchase First Mortgages through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company do not have to consider such exigencies, for these investments are at par day in and day out and pay a steady, unfailing income at 6%.

WIDESPREAD GAINS MARK BOND TRADING Many Groups Move to Higher Levels; Turnover Remains Light. FEDERAL LIST IS FIRM

New York, April 16 (A.P.) .- In one of most impressive demonstrations of trength since it was depressed by high noney rates and the popularity of tocks, the bond market today gave olid evidence of underlying improve-ment, and rails, foreign issues, United states Government obligations and the filt-edged industrials and utilities all hared in a general advance into higher arica lavels.

chared in a general advance into higher price levels.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 40 issues, bonds have moved up about haif a point since the recovery began a week ago at near the lowest level since 1926. The outburst of confidence in the fixed-return securities today contributed approximately half of the week's price advance, based on the averages. The market averages still are about four points under the postwar peaks reached early last year.

Sales did not mirror the price movements, totaling $7,534,000. This was less than $200,000 more than yesterday's volume, which was the smallest of the year.

day's volume, which was the smallest of the year.

Influences contributing to the recovery of bords in the last week have been the subsidence of interest in stocks, the comparatively higher yields available in the bond list and, most important of all, prospects of easier money rates as a result of liquidation in stocks, passing of seasonal credit demands and increase in gold reserves.

As a group the convertibles, following the irregularity of stocks, were uneven. Anaconda Copper 7s soid off early but recovered their losses and closed unchanged. Pan American Petroleum 6s failed to sustain an early rise and closed a point off.

Gains ranging from fractions to three points were made in obligations of the Canadian Pacific, Atchison, Central Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, St. Paul, Eric, Great Northern, Minneapolis & St. Louis, New Haven, Reading, Southern Pacific and Southern. The Seaboard Airline issues, speculative favorites as result of reports of recapitalization plans, sold off on profit-taking.

Steady accumulation of the foreign capitalization plans, sold off on rofit-taking.

Steady accumulation of the foreign sues by investors seeking higher fields than most of domestic bonds afbord carried the French, Italian, German and Belgian loans for the most part into higher ground.

reserved for conversion of 125,000 shares Series A Preferred Stock; also shares reserved for Bankers' options

Mr. Richard A. Corroon, who will be President of Corroon & Reynolds Corporation, summarizes his letter dated March 25, & Reynolds Corporation, hereinafter called "the Corporation," is being organized HISTORY AND BUSINESS: Corroon under the laws of Delaware to acquire all of the common stock and at least 60% of the preferred stock of Knickerbocker Equitable Securities Corporation, hereinafter called "Knickerbocker." The latter Company was organized in 1923 as a holding company for shares of insurance companies, insurance management and agency corporations.

Knickerbocker has a controlling or substantial interest in the following companies:

American Equitable Assurance Company of New York Bronx Fire Insurance Company of the City of New York Brooklyn Fire Insurance Company Globe Insurance Company of America, Pittsburgh, Pa. Long Island Fire Insurance Company Knickerbocker Insurance Company of New York Liberty Bell Insurance Co. of Philadelphia, Pa.

Merchants and Manufacturers Fire Insurance Company of Newark, N. J.

New York Fire Insurance Company

Metropolitan Fire Insurance Company of New York

Republic Fire Insurance Company, Pimburgh, Pa.

Sylvania Insurance Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

Guardian Fire Assurance Corporation of New York

all of which, with the exception of Liberty Bell Insurance Company and Guardian Fire Assurance Corporation, are under the management of Corroon & Reynolds, Inc., the wholly-owned subsidiary management corporation. The above companies reported assets at December 31, 1928, of $57,803,378, with a premium income for 1928 of $15,559,408.

Knickerbocker owns the entire capital stock of Central Fire Agency, Inc., one of the largest insurance agencies in the country, which represents twenty-eight insurance companies. These companies received $11,171,602 in premiums for 1928 through this Agency. In addition Knickerbocker owns, directly or through subsidiary or affiliated companies, substantial holdings in certain other companies whose operations have been profitable over a long period.

The Corporation will have a complete organization covering virtually all of the various branches of the insurance business, except life insurance. Due to this, and to the experience of the management covering a period of over twenty-five years, the Corporation is in a strategic position in respect to the financing, refinancing and operating of insurance companies, management corporations and agencies upon a basis which is producing profitable results.

The Corporation will acquire at least 60% of the outstanding preferred stock of Knickerbocker, and it is expected that the holders of substantially all of such stock will avail themselves of the opportunity to exchange their stock for the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, of the Corporation. The net assets of the Corporation and Knickerbocker and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, as of February 28, 1929 (marketable securities at March 20, 1929, valuations), will be equivalent to over $200 per share on the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, of the Corporation to be presently outstanding; and if all of the Knickerbocker preferred stock accepts the exchange, the net assets of the Corporation, on the same basis, will amount to over

The Bankers have options for six months on unissued Common Stock of the Corporation, as follows: 50,000 shares at $30, 25,000 shares at $32½, 25,000 shares at $35, 50,000 shares at $40 and 50,000 shares at $45.

The entire proceeds of this financing go into the treasury of the Corporation.

EARNINGS: The income of the Corporation and its subsidiaries will be derived from three principal sources: Profits from the ownership and management of the General Agency business; dividends from securities owned, largely from whollyowned or controlled insurance companies; and profits realized from the purchase and sale of securities. For the year ended December 31st, 1928, earnings of Knickerbocker and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, after deduction of all expenses and Federal Income Taxes, amounted to $2,906,213. The maximum annual dividend requirements on the Convertible Preferred Stock, Series A, to be presently outstanding amount to $750,000. The above earnings do not include any interest on the new funds provided by this financing.

CONVERSION: Each share of the entire issue of Series A Preferred Stock to be presently outstanding will be convertible at the option of the holder thereof into Common Stock of the Corporation, on the following bases: Up to and including December 31, 1930, into 3 shares of Common Stock; thereafter, up to and including December 31, 1931, into 2½ shares of Common Stock; thereafter, up to and including December 31, 1932, into 2 shares of Common Stock. The Certificate of Incorporation will contain provisions protecting the conversion right against dilution in the event of stock dividends and MANAGEMENT: The officers of the Corporation, all of whom have had over twenty-five years' experience in the insurance business and in corporate financial affairs, and who have been responsible for the success of the business will continue actively to manage its affairs, and will own a large majority of the Common Stock.

CAR LOADINGS DROP, REPORT DISCLOSES

Railway Association Cites Slumps in Grain, Ore and Other Shipments.

STOCK LIST IS ERRATIC

By THOMAS M. CAHILL. A total of 956,364 cars was announced yesterday by the car service division of the American Railway Association in its report on loading of revenue freight for week ended April 6. This showed a decrease of 10,655 cars below the preceding week this year, with slumps in the loading of grain and grain prod-ucts, ore, miscellaneous freight and

There were increases over the week before, in live stock, coal, coke and merchandise less than carload-lot freight. Loading of revenue freight for the week showed a gain of 37,012 cars, compared with the corresponding week last year, and an increase of 2,457 cars above the comparative period in 1927.

Loading of miscellaneous freight for the week aggregated 403,763 cars, an increase of 29,205 cars above the corresponding week last year, and 24,314 over the same week in 1927. All districts reported increases in the total loading of all commodities compared with the same week in 1928, but the Eastern, Central, Western and Southwestern districts were the only ones reporting increases compared with the corresponding week the year before.

Reports 206 New Industries.

Establishment of 206 new industries along the lines of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad was announced resterday by President W. J. Harahan, based on a report of the road's agricultural and industrial department.

In addition to the new industries, 40 existing plants increased their capacity from 10 to 600 per cent, and eight plants, idle since 1926, resumed operations or will do so shortly.

In an itemized list of the new industries, which gives the location, approximate amount of capital invested and number of employes, Virginia is shown to have secured 42 plants with total capital of $19,633,000 and with more than 5,600 employes.

Robberies of freight on the railroads of this country in 1928 amounted to less per car than the cost of mailing a letter, according to a statement of R. H. Alsahton, president of the American Railway Association, made public yester by association Building.

yeste by association headquarters in the iransportation Building.

The average loss attributable to thefts and robberies of freight, he stated, was only 1 1-18 cents despite the fact that the railroads handled billions of dollars' worth of freight each year. Claims growing out of reported thefts and robberies, and paid last year, totaled $928,563, the lowest amount for any year since 1914, and a reduction of $222,563, or 19 per cent, compared with 1927.

Siddons Lauds Life Insurance.

Siddons Lauds Life Insurance.

Commenting on the coming address of G. A. Price, trust officer of the People Savings & Trust Co., of Pittsburgh, before a meeting of the fiduciaries section of the District of Columbia Bankers Association, May 24, Chairman Frederick P. H. Siddons, of the section, said, "No one today can dispute the value of life insurance. It is a business which long ago passed the stage of infancy, and the enormous size of the life insurance companies is alone an indication of the public's approval of its existence.

"The development of the life insurance trusts in trust companies and banks engaged in a fiduciaries business is, however, comparatively new. The securing of life insurance trust agreements as a part of the trust agreements of the fiduciaries section of the District of Columbia Bankers Association it is hoped that much benefit is going to be obtained for the men engaged in the life insurance business as well as for the institutions themselves. For such cause the fiduciaries section is holding this special dinner in May, in order to further develop this field of business."

On every busy street, whatever city it may be, there is generally one building which, because of its imposing appearance and prominent location, dominates all the rest.

This building has still a few offices available, single or en suite.

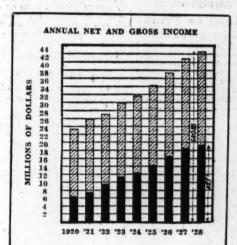

A store at 1016 Fifteenth street northwest, containing 2,222 square feet, 18-ft. ceilings, well lighted and ventilated. Also a smaller store at 1517 K street northwest with 553 square feet. The tenants of the Investment Building have no parking prob-

Associated Gas and Electric System

Steady Growth in Earnings

The steady growth in earnings from year to year is a result of the usefulness and value of the service rendered. Through service in a widespread area comprising 16 States, earnings are but slightly affected by local business disturbances.

Associated investors appreciate the stability of earnings of the company. There are now over 80,000 Associated security holders.

80% Growth in Customers

In 1920 the properties now in the Associated. System had 352,725 customers. Today there are over 635,000 customers. This is the normal growth of the same properties over the entire period.

The steadiness of this growth (see chart) from year to year, including 1921 with its unusual business depression, indicates the remarkable stability of a diversified gas and electric system.

NATIONAL GAME -In Colleges-NOT BASEBALL BY WESTBROOK PEGLER_

be some special significance, be some special significance, worthy of a survey by the Carnegie Foundation, in the cold rationalism with which the college students and alumni regard the so-called national game of baseball. Or perhaps this apathy means nothing more subtle than that they do not care much for baseball. At any rate, the facts themselves are rather interesting and those who are rather interesting and those who like their facts seasoned with signifi-cance may help themselves to the sig-

Saturday afternoon there were several college ball games in the East, in the course of which the conduct of the undergotter. the course of which the conduct of the undergraduates partook of that casualness for which the students of Oxford and Cambridge are noted. I have a copy of the Carnegle Foundation's bulletin No. 18 on games and sports in British schools and universities, containing several fascinating paragraphs on the self-control of the student rooters at big matches, roughly corresponding to the Yale-Harvard and Michigan-Ohio State football games in this country.

Ohio State lootsal games country.

The description tells of undergraduates strolling up to look on for a while, and then strolling off again. Now and again some student becomes hysterical and discharges his emotion in a cry of "Now, then, come along, come along!" Adherents of Christ Church College seem to be more flighty than others, emitting cries of "House! House! House!" in addition to "Now, then, come along!" when they lose control ong!" when they lose control Undergrad Don't Care and Old

Football Shows That Blame

Can Not Be Placed on Weather.

As for the Harvard-Columbia game at Columbia's field, not only did the sparce attendance dwindle away but the athletes themselves found the spring air a bit too much on the cool side and assented to the calling of the game after nine innings on account of chills with the score tied at 1 and 1.

All of which, I submit merely as information and not with any sconful intent. On the contrary, the conduct of all concerned suggests that they are same on the topic of baseball and value it as a sport only and not as a religious demonstration calling for extreme suffering, nutty exhortations and pneumococci.

All accounts mention the chilly state of the weather as responsible for the meager attendance, but the day was no worse than some Saturdays in the fall and positively balmy by comparison CONTINUED ON PAGE 19, COLUMN 3.

By FRANK H. YOUNG. LL of the frills and thrills prom A LL of the frills and thrills promised yesterday will be given Washington fans at the Clark Griffith Stadium this afternoon when, provided the weather does not again interfere, the Nationals and Philadelphia Athletics will open the 1929 base-ball season here. As home fans have had their appetites whetted for some time looking forward to April 16 for their first taste of baseball, the posttime looking forward to April 18 for their first taste of baseball, the post-ponement proved quite disappointing and, no doubt, took some of the edge from their anticipation, but all will be forgotten if today's program is allowed to proceed along scheduled lines.

The original plans will be filowed, with the gates thrown open at 11:30 for the benefit of early comers who will be entertained by Myer Goldman's Band until "Uncle Sam" assumes command in a semiofficial capacity. Later, the United States Army Band will give its interpretations of the latest airs, and just before the game starts at 3:30 o'clock President Hoover and his Cabinet, Vice President Curtis and ranking Army, Navy and Marine officers are due to arrive, with 'he Chief Executive booked to actually open the season by tossing the first ball to Manager Walter Johnson.

The Pirates pushed across three runs in the first inning. Adams, the first man up, started the trouble when he reached first on an error by English. "Little Poison" Lloyd Waner walked. After his brother Paul had popped out. Traynor singled, filling the bases. It was here that Grantham entered the picture, derricking a double into the right-field crowd and scoring Adams and Lloyd Waner. Bartell ended the scoring splurge in that inning with a long sacrifice fly, scoring Traynor.

In the second and third innings the Pirates bunched hits with bases on balls to load the bases, but Root bore down and kept them from tallying. The Pirates got their final run in the seventh inning, when Traynor, who had singled for his third hit, scored on Bartell's sacrifice fly.

CHICAGO, April 16 (A.P.).—Donic Bush's Pirates brig weathered a withering storm of base hits today and sailed off on its National League pennant voyage with a 4-to-3 victory over the Chicago Cube lashed to its masthead.

Burleigh Grimes. veteran spitball artist, akippered the Buccaneers to-day and, although it looked as if he would sink their craft just before it left port, his old cunning and some sparkling assistance from his mates saved the situation.

Fitty thousand noisy baseball fans which jammed Wrijey Field to the rim, watched today's battle between the two pennant contenders and were rewarded with a game that packed as much drama and good baseball as establed in the usual midsummer classics.

Sharing Grimes' glory were Pie Traynor who led the Pirate attack with a double, two singles and two runs; George Grantham, a Cub castoff, who drove in two runs with a crashing grid gouble, and Bartell, who continually petered the Cube' defense until he splittered it to drive in two runs.

Debut of Hornsby at Chicago Draws Crowd of 50,000.

While the rain drops pattered a dismal tune for the East, the base hits popped noisily out beyond the Alleghanies. Chicago put on the big show with a record crowd of 50,000 packing Wrigley Field to see Rogers Hornsby make his debut with the Chicago Cubs against the Pittsburgh Pirates. This tribute of home town enthusiasm for their pennant chances failed to inspire the Cubs, however, for they dropped the first skirmish, 4-3.

The turnout at Chicago surpassed the combined attendance for the other three games played. The four-game total was 94,507, as compared with aggregate attendance of 121,517 for the opening of 1928 among the same clubs.

Exactly 25,507 paid to see the St. Louis Cardinals, National League champions, start off with an impressive victory behind the veteran Groyer Clays.

The plaudits of another racing crowd were showered upon Earl sande today at the finish of the third race, which took on the aspect of the feature event of the day's program when Sande returned to the saddle on his own horse trained by himself and piloted Hermitage to a smashing victory in a 6-furlong sprint for maiden 3in a 6-furlong sprint for maiden 3-piloted Hermitage to a emashing victory in a 6-furlong sprint for maiden 3-year-olds.

Allowed to ride his own horses by a special ruling of the Maryland Racing Commission last winter, sande chose a dismal day for his comeback. The track was fetlock deep in mud and even the king of American jockeys did not arouse much enthusiasm among the small crowd in the stands when the field paraded to the post, but at the finish a great mob collected about the judges' stand to see him give the winner's salute and weigh in.

Hermitage, Sande's Derby candidate, was a 4-to-5 favorite and despite the fact that Sande was making a start out of the stall gates for the first time in his long career, he got his colt away flying in typical Sande form, leading the field from flagfall to finish. The familiar "Come on, Sande," reverberated throughout the stands as Hermitage continued to lead into the stretch and Sande kept the cost comfortably in form to score by four lengths over Domineer, which was a head in front of Tried and True.

The "Graw" experienced one of its worst racing days. Wintry winds that assumed the proportions of a gale at times whipped across the Susquehanna, attended by a vicious rain. The steady downpour which has continued unabated for 48 hours, transformed the track into a quagmire. There were 49 withdrawais from the 163 entered and an uncommonly small crowd was in the stands.

Nine undependable platers went to the post for the sixth event, and the winner was returned in W. H. Snyder's John F. O'Malley over the mile and sixteenth distance to pay the handsome odds of 6130.10 for $2.

Jockey J. Convey rode the winner which came with a tremendous burst of speed in the final sixteenth to earn the victory by a length from J. E. Beal's Elia M. Fire Rock, running under the colors of H. Haymaker, finished third.

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 17. Middle West and Northwest. If New Middle West and Northwest. If New York U. had been playing a football game of equal importance on a similar day in the fall, the graduate manager would have leased the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds to accommodate the attendance because Ohio field has only small, wodern circus seats barely adesmall, wooden circus seats, barely ade-quate for the trade at the push-over games early in the season. Comparing such devation with the moderate enthusiasm of players and spectators alike in the baseball season, one might judge that baseball really is not the national game so far as the colleges are concerned. But then contrary facts begin to fuddle the situa-tion. The fact, for instance, that the public, including a great and growing element of college people, just now manifests an intention to patronize the game of the major and high minor leagues this year in greater numbers than ever was done before.

"Spring's Here! Change Your Motor Oil! Flush Your Crankcase!"—From an oil company advertisement accompa-nied by a picture of a buoyant youth welcoming its advent from a trellised Window.

(Cosmo Monkhouse. Revised.)

Sing a song of springtime.

The world is going round,

Blown by the south wind;

Listen to the sound.

"Gurgle" goes the mill-wheel,

"Patter" goes the rain.

And it's O for the service man

The crankcase to drain!

Sing a song of summer.

The world is pretty still,
The mill-pond has gone to sleep
And so has the mill.
Shall we go a-sailing.
Or shalf we stroll afar,
Or shall we take the afternoon
To oil the motor car?

Son of the soil, Is under the flivver Changing the oil.

Sing a song of winter,
The world stops dead;
Under snowy coverlid
Flowers lie abed.
There's hunting after turkeys
And hunting after geese—
Oh it's another season
For changing oil and grease! Or, catching the spirit of spring as the oil company sees it, you might like this one better:

The year's at the spring.
And day's at morn;
Morning's at seven;
'The hillside's dew-pearled;
The lark's on the wing:
The snall's on the thorn;
By half-past eleven
My motor'll be "erled."

MAJ. PRATT WANTS INCREASES IN WAGE FOR ALL POLICEMEN

New Chief of Department Also Asks for Probation of Three Years.

PLAN WOULD CREATE AWARDS FOR MERIT

One Schedule Gives Head $7,000 Salary, Instead of Present $5,200.

Determined to raise the standard of personnel in the Police Department Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of ce, is devising legislation to increase the probationary period for new-ly appointed policemen from one to three years and at the same time pro-three years and at the same time orovide higher pay for officers and men.

Pratt is determined to put the Police Department on an efficient basis and is seeking to find ways through which good police work will be rewarded. The new chief wants to rid the department of poor material and compensate individuals for good work.

Some system, such as that of the Army whereby privates get increased pay for meritorious work, is under consideration by Maj. Pratt. Especially noteworthy services on the part of policemen would be met with a special increase over and above their regular pay, under the plan which Maj. Pratt has in contemplation, but the details of which he has not worked out.

Promotion Plan Found.

Promotion Plan Found. A general increase in pay for officers and men is another of the efficiency moves the superintendent has in mind. Pratt wants to make promotion in the department more desirable for all officers and men. Under the present pay scale, he believes, there is no-enough difference between the pay of various grades to make members of the force exert themselves.

Maj. Pratt refused to discuss in any stall the salary schedules he believes hould be put in effect.

One schedule suggested was $2,700 or sergeants; $3,000 for lieutenants; $3,000 for captains; $4,250 for inspectants; $5,500 for assistant superintendants of police and $7,000 for the police hief. At present the pay of the major and superintendent of police is $5,200. Thich is much less than that received yother department heads in the District government, despite the fact that he police chief is responsible for a targer number of employes, is the one lity official who is most directly in ontact with the general public and is harged with duties vitally important to the citizenry.

Privates' Salary $1,800.

Privates would be started at the present salary of $1,800; be given an increase in salary of $1,800; be given an increase of the producted that the bill would be favorably reported in less than 30 minutes.

Privates would be started at the presnt salary of $1,800; be given an increase of $200 at the beginning of their secnd year; $300 more at the beginning of the fourth year; and $2,500 at the eginning of their fifth year.

Brudy of the personnel records of the epartment show that difficulty is experienced with few men during the irst year, but that many get into rouble during their second and third ears on the force, Maj. Pratt said.
Under the present system, a probalenary officer may be dropped at any imperition by the department to the civil

Bids for modernization of the Western market will be opened today by District officials, and the act is expected to calm a growing storm of discontent and criticism from residents of the section served by the market.

Repairs to the market will crest between $15,000 and $20,000, Roland M Brennan, chief clerk of the District engineer department, estimated yesterday. This will be in addition to the $9,623 spent recently for the repair of the leaky roof, about which many complaints had been made.

Criticism of the lack of speed in repairing the market was climaxed at a meeting of the West End Citizens Associations, charged the District Officials, however, denied any intention to eliminate the market. UNLISTED ITEMS CITED 2 COMPANIONS RUN AWAY

Decision to prepare a five-year budget for the District of Columbia, showing not the amount of money available were riding was in collision at Fifth over the period, but the amount needed for public improvements of imperative in nature, was reached last night at a meeting of the municipal finance committee of the Washington Board of Trade. Joshua Evans, ir., executive vice president of the District National Bank, is chairman of the committee.

After discussing the $230,000,000 budget for five years, as prepared by the District auditor, members of the Board of Trade's finance committee were of the opinion that this budget omits a number of much-needed improvements.

They pointed out that the auditor in preparing the $230,000,000 budget was only complying with the law in accounting only for funds available. However, the budget as prepared lists only $16,000,000 for new improvements.

Members of the committee felt that another budget, giving figures on the cost of necessary public improvements, might influence Congress to increase the funds given the District and allow for $23,000,000 worth of improvements instead of the $16,000,000 provided in the present hudget.

In addition to the study of the Dis-trict five-year budget, the committee determined to conduct an investigation into taxes of all kinds in the District tangible, intangible, gas, corporation and bank. Members were informed that in some instances the bank tax that in some instances the bank tax in the District amounts to a 15 to 20 per cent income tax on the person dealing with the bank.

High cost of operation and maintenance in the District was called to the attention of the committee and it was agreed to make a survey to determine why costs here are higher than in other cities of similar size. That more money would be available for improvements if operating costs in the city were reduced, was the belief expressed.
